You Survived High School: Now What? James Wilson

“I don’t want to go to college! I am sick and tired of school. Now what? What are my career choices? Can I still be successful without a college education?” These are all questions I asked myself upon graduating from high school. I was lost, confused, and simply didn’t know what to do. Like most high school graduates, I was pressured into going to college and was absolutely miserable. Don’t get me wrong, I learned a lot during my time in college, however, I quickly realized that I didn’t need a college education to be successful. The world is rife with other opportunities waiting to be seized. This book serves as a guide of alternatives to going to college straight from high school and encourages you to take your time and make an informed decision before making that four-year commitment.
